LEADING CONTESTANTS

 To friends and well wishers of contestants we point out that it may be physically impossible, through the last days and hours of the competition for that friend, relative or acquaintance, to find time to reach you. Contestants will find it impossible to reach everyone they would like to contact personally. They have all lists of unredeemed promises. Is your name on such a list? If so, now is the time to redeem that promise by placing a call to that contestant's home or to call the Contest Department of the HERALD with your subscription, new or renewal to be credited to that favorite.

BPWC ELECT SARA CRECH TO ATTEND NATL CONVENTION

The Business and Professional Women's Club held a social meeting and winner raffle in the Municipal Park Tuesday night. Miss Banna Rodriguez, president, presided over the business meeting. The club voted Miss Sara Lee Crech as delegate from the Belle Glade Club, to attend the National BPWC in St. Louis, Mo., on June 26.

Announcement was made of a district meeting June 29, at Lake Worth, when tentative plans will be made for the district convention. Attending from the local club will be Mrs. Uecla Caruthers and Mrs. Walter Thomas.

A letter was read from Mrs. Edwin Young, local chamber secretary regarding the film "The World We Live In" which the club agreed to accept sponsorship, provided they could get the film.

It was decided that the next meeting in July would be a pot luck supper and that the August meeting would be a box lunch, with an invitation extended to Pahokee Club and any women that are interested in joining the club. At this meeting Miss Crech will give a report on the national convention and anyone wishing to attend should contact Mrs. Anita Wells, or Mrs.

Caruthers.
 Others present were Mrs. Betty Jean Myers, Miss Gloria Crosby, Mrs. Anne Quinn, Mrs. Grace Smith, Mrs. Florence Parke, Mrs. Audrey Jones, Mrs. Uecla Caruthers, Mrs. Walter Thomas, and Mrs. Dorothy Carnes.

LEGION AUXILIARY GIVE TEA FOR GIRLS' STATE DELEGATES

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit of South Bay, Clewiston, Pahokee, Canal Point, Okeechobee and Belle Glade were joint hostesses at a business meeting and tea given for the past and present Girls' State representatives at the Legion Hall Wednesday afternoon.

The meeting was opened by Marlene Brooks, past president of Unit 26, and after introduction of the guests, turned over to Mrs. Ryan, and has helped them in drawing up bills as well as explaining different phases of the legislative program. This trip will be most interesting and informative in giving those selected to attend this year. Both expressed their enthusiasm for this program by saying, "I wish I could do it again."

This year's Girls' State are: Billie Nell Stokes, Canal Point; Clarice Jones, Okeechobee; Sylvia Beatty and Shan Land, Clewiston; Sadie Clifton, Pahokee; Connie Perkins, South Bay; Mary Claire Crider and Claudia Phelan of Belle Glade, with Jeannette Friedheim as alternate.

Guests attending were: past president to the District Girls' State chairman, Mrs. Ryan of Danis, who gave a detailed and enlightening talk on the Girls' State program.

Local Chief Of Police Graduates From FBI National Academy

Fire arms instruction, included the "big-man" gun, took several days of the time. Goodlett, at the FBI National Academy. Chief learned how to handle the weapons of the gun trained on the target, inside the "big-man" gun.

Chief Charlie Goodlett of the Miami Police has returned from Washington, where he has graduated last week from the FBI's National Academy along with 80 other selected police officers from throughout the U. S. and Puerto Rico.

"It's certainly a privilege to be able to attend this school," said the Chief, "and I have just come to realize just how much there is to this job of law enforcement about which I was and am ignorant."

"Scientific crime detection methods of modern times are congregated in the library of the National Academy and the courses offered are tops in the world. Outstanding authorities on the several subjects were imported to the school for the classes and these included outstanding educators, business

This study and report by Mr. Johnson is of inestimable value to the Glades drainage district and owners of private ditches to check all perimeter ditches and pumping facilities before the water gets too high.

If the items presently included in the appropriation bills now in conference are agreed to by the House and Senate Congress work will let very soon to build levees L-2 and L-3, do the widening and the Hillsboro and the N. New River, complete the Twenty-Mile-Bend pumps, complete S-6 and S-7.

Work is now in progress on opening and widening the Hillsboro to Hillsboro Plantation, but the balance of the work to Lake Okechobee is being left for the winter of 1955 when the Legislature will have to pass laws over some technicalities concerning rights-of-way.

Success Story
---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU---
When it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class. Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.
We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position — the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.
But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.
Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed. Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:
In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."
That's a tip too good to pass up. That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.
More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people — and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.
So why not look into the tomorrow-styled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?
Come in, or phone us this week for a demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy — by far.

GMC TRUCKS IMPROVE BRAKING FACILITIES

Substantial progress towards increased highway safety has been made as a result of constant improvement in GMC truck and bus brake systems in the past several years. It was disclosed today by P. J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

Stopping distances of GMC trucks and coaches after emergency application of the brakes have been shortened considerably as a result of many engineering developments since a World War II by GMC engineers and brake suppliers, Monaghan said.

"There has not only been a continual improvement in the safety factor but a much longer life for the various components in the brake system as well," he said. "We are well aware of the great importance to the truck operator and motoring public, and GMC has been making every effort possible to lead the way in this field."

There are three general areas that govern the effectiveness of braking trucks or coaches, Monaghan said. The first is driver perception and reaction, over which a manufacturer has little control, except to make the driver comfortable, give him a good range of vision, and place the brake controls within easy reach.

The second factor is the mechanical transmission of the braking power, whether it be air or hydraulic, to the brakes themselves, while the third area is the application of the brakes at the wheels.

The time between driver reaction and the full-pressure application of the brakes at the wheels is an extremely important interval, but GMC and its brake suppliers have been working to shorten it, the GMC executive said. For instance, the full-pressure air brake application time for a GMC 4-wheel tractor hauling a tandem axle semi-trailer, has been cut from 31 seconds to 23 seconds on the rear axle of the tractor, while on a 41-passenger GMC coach the time has been shortened from 40 to 16 seconds on the rear wheels, and from 38 to 18 seconds on the front wheels.

The time saved—even fractions of a second—means many fewer feet of highway required for stopping in view of the fact that a vehicle covers 66 feet per second at a speed of 45 miles per hour.

Brake components have been greatly improved, so there is less friction and better transmission of braking power. Brake linings have been improved so many truck operators are getting upward of 50,000 miles of use out of them. Tire suppliers to GMC, meanwhile, have improved adhesion of truck and bus tires to the highway by tread design and the composition, which contributes to better stopping ability.

KISKOZAKI RODEO PREPARES FOR BIG JULY FOURTH SHOW A total of $1095 in prize money has been posted for the Tenth Annual Silver Spur Rodeo, according to Rodeo Chairman Doc Partin, and has been approved by Rodeo Cowboys' Association. Entry fee of $15 per contestant per contest will be added to the prize money to make the purse total of $3,000 and $4,000.

"As every rodeo fan knows, each contestant is out to win because otherwise he will take home no money for his efforts," Partin explained. The 1954 day money of $125 is somewhat greater than the usual prize offered at the Klatskanie rodeo, and is designed to attract the best available rodeo talent. The 1954 rodeo will open Saturday evening at 8 o'clock following a rodeo parade in downtown Klatskanie beginning at 5 p.m. Additional performances will be held Sunday, July 4 and Monday, July 5. Cowboys will compete in five major contest events: Bareback Bronc Riding, Saddle Bronc Riding, Bull Riding, Steer Wrestling, and Calf Roping. Partin reports. In addition the club has posted $40 to winners in the Girls' Cleverest Race, and $80 to winners in the Boys' Relay Race, both of which are limited to juvenile entries this year.

Mildred Murphy and her high-school brother, Horace Quadrilla, and a team of trick and fancy riders are included in the program. Box seats are available for the first time in the new covered South grandstand, construction of which is assured by opening day.

Theme of the conference will be "Methodist Men Work for Christ."

Among the principal speakers who will address the meeting are: Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., Washington, D. C., who is a Methodist layman; Lem T. Jones, Kansas City, president of United Churchmen of the National Council of Churches; and Bishop Richard C. Reines of Indianapolis.

Fran H. Faber, Minneapolis, Minn., is general chairman of the conference.

Florida's gasoline tax, 33 years old this week, now produces 114 times as much revenue as it did the first year it was in effect. Glen F. Woodard, Executive Secretary of the Florida Petroleum Industries Committee announced today.

Imposed on June 20, 1921, the state gasoline tax produced $36,000 in its first full year, he said, whereas it now brings in about $7,497,000 annually. Total collections from this tax from the time it was levied up to the end of last year amount to $221,589,000, he said.

Through increased ownership and use of motor vehicles have helped to boost revenues from the gasoline tax, he noted, a large part of the expended revenue can be traced to higher rates. Mr. Woodard pointed out that when Florida first levied this tax its cost was 10 cents on ten gallons and there was no federal tax.

Today, he explained, the state tax amounts to 70 cents on ten gallons, and the additional federal levy first imposed in 1933, brings the total tax up to 90 cents on a ten gallon purchase.

With the state gasoline tax and other highway revenue bringing in more every year—with road-building costs beginning to decline in various sections of the country—the tax-payers have every reason to expect that our program of highway improvement will continue at a high level and even be stepped up in pace, Mr. Woodard concluded.

WORK OF OUR DEACONS DISCUSSED BY JUNIORS OF FIRST BAPTIST SS

Mr. Mills Byron, an active deacon of the church, was the honor guest in assembly for the Juniors Sunday morning in Sunday School. A quiz program on the "Work of Our Deacons" was enjoyed by the Juniors in which the score of answers was a tie between the boys and girls.

Mr. Byron acted in judging the correctness of the answers. During the program the Juniors learned the names of the 15 active deacons of the church, work of the deacons, the work of the deacons in the church, one being a deacon of the church by being elected to the church body then being ordained.

The Scripture for the morning was Acts 6:1-4 in which the Juniors found that the first deacons were chosen when Christians began multiplying; there were 7 deacons in the church referred to in this Scripture, that these deacons were chosen to help the poor and needy in the church; the kind of men chosen were of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom.

Bobby Thomas was usher for the morning and Martha Pope, Barbara Smith, and Gladys Edwards class of 12 year girls. They were: Martha Faye Davidson, Barbara Smith, Georgina Mills, Sara Burns, Donna Holt, and Martha Farmer. These two classes are named in honor of the fact they are constant winners or have second highest grade for the weekly banner. Third with the highest grade was the class of Mrs. Jean Cross's 11 year girls.

A swimming party and picnic for the Juniors is being planned for the near future.

Floyd E. Rider, 548 S. E. 8th, Belle Glade, is a member of his Methodist Church, and will make up the other delegates to the National Conference of the National Council of Churches, which will be held Sunday, July 9-11.

The meeting will be the first assembly of its kind to be sponsored by the General Board of Lay Activities of The Methodist Church, with headquarters in Chicago.

Theme of the conference will be "Methodist Men Work for Christ."

Among the principal speakers who will address the meeting are: Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., Washington, D. C., who is a Methodist layman; Lem T. Jones, Kansas City, president of United Churchmen of the National Council of Churches; and Bishop Richard C. Reines of Indianapolis.

A Hymn Is Born

My Faith Looks Up to Thee

BY CLINT BONNER

A bank clerk and a shoe clerk stop for a chat

Two men stopped in front of a store in Boston. One was Lowell Mason, near middle age and just back from Savannah, Ga., where for 18 years he had been a choir director and bank clerk. The other was 24-year-old Ray Palmer, recent divinity student and graduate of Yale. Three years later, Mason was to be awarded the first degree of Doctor of Music conferred by an American college and was to go down in history as perhaps the greatest all hymn-tune composer. That same year, 1835, Palmer was to be ordained a minister in the Congregational Church and publish several volumes of verse.

Circle drawings were held for the four circles of the Society and meetings will be continued through the summer months. Guests present were Mrs. Dick Hodges, Miss Margaret West and Miss Sara Grech. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Vernie Boots and Mrs. Marie Schoenfeld.
